Bucket Brigade Collects $532

Members of the National Guard Unit and those of Cameron civic clubs and businesses in the annual March of Dimes "Bucket Brigade" last Saturday, January 19, raised funds amounting to $532.81.

National Guard members operated on the intersection of Highways 7 and 36. They report very wonderful cooperation on the parts of motorists whom they stopped. In the day long activity, they also found a sense of humor of standing in the cold accepting funds from those passing.

This sense of humor included the kidding of one member, who sought a donation from a woman driver. The driver drew out of the lane of traffic into the curb which the front wheel of her car crossed over. She gave the guardsman a check for $2.50 which she had received for the MOD from a member of her family and also donated a dollar in cash. Other guardsmen kidded this one receiving the donations as to having frightened the woman so much that she failed to realize she was giving so much. The one receiving the ridicule took the jabs good naturedly.

Up town where members of the Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs were taking donations, there was also those little stories of persons giving which was unexpected to those collecting for the MOD. One was that of two young boys, who donated the money given them by their father to attend the movie and then sat in the cold gaining their enjoyment from watching the bucket brigade in action.

Donations taken varied from one cent to one of $50.

Teenagers Drive Raises MOD Fund

Buckholts teenagers held their drive to raise funds for the 1957 March of Dimes last Saturday, January 19, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

During the day, the youths took over the town as they set up a city government of city policemen and firemen. Students of the Buckholts High School taking part in the fund raising campaign praised the wonderful cooperation they received from the merchants and people of the community in raising $63 during the day.

Those taking part in the drive were James Edward Glaser, Sammy Skrbok, Joseph Chevalier, Kenneth Janicek, Walter Zajicek, John D. Jones, Linda Jones, LaVelle Fischer, Nancy Zavrel, Anna Marek, Jeanette Fuchs, Carol Wayne Glaser, Carol Gene Fuchs, Wilbur Jurca, Rueben Mendoza, Lamas Gresak, Kathryn Svetlik, Curtis Fuchs, Marc Gersback, Stella Inge, Ernest Denton and Carolyn Mekush.

The Wee Hours By Your Police Reporter

Night Patrolman George McCall of the Cameron Police Department is much of a man. It wouldn't be advisable for any fugitive to attempt to better this policeman either physically nor mentally.

However, the other night as he walked his beat along the sidewalk beside McLane Company's building, he was approached by a culprit from the opposite end of the building. As the two came nearer and nearer together, McCall gained a better look of the other and decided against any contact whatsoever.

It was early in the morning and no other assistance was in the vicinity. Had there been, such human assistance like McCall would have dodged the night prowler. McCall, rather than having to face the silently approaching character in combat of any description, left the walk and continued along his beat in the middle of the street.

Yessir, 'tis strange the respect a black feline animal with a white stripe down its back creates in the most valiant of men.

SPECIALY CONSTRUCTED POLICE CAR goes into action here in Cameron as of last Thursday, January 17, as H. H. Stedman of Hefley-Stedman Motor Company presents Chief Willie Dolan with the keys to the vehicle. Delivered to the local motor company, which sold the patrol car to the city on a low bid, on Tuesday, the company readied the car for action. Dolan upon receiving the vehicle drove it to Waco where short-wave radio equipment was installed and Thursday night the car was patrolling the streets of Cameron. This is the first time in the history of Cameron that the city has had a radio-equipped patrol car on duty. The vehicle is equipped and powered to meet any and all needs for which a police car might be called here or in the largest cities in the nation. At the same time, the newly installed radio equipment at the Cameron City Hall provides the city with the means of assisting other city police forces, the Texas Highway Patrol and other law-enforcement agencies in their apprehension of criminals on the prowl.

Local Patrolman Points To Safety

Highway Patrolman John Blansit yesterday urged Milam County vehicle operators to get safety stickers on their automobiles and trucks before the April 15 deadline.

He said following the deadline that check points would be set up along highways within the county where patrolmen would stop and check passing cars. Those without these stickers, he said, will be guilty of a traffic violation and subject to fines ranging from $1 to $200 and court costs.

Blansit further emphasized that one of the main purposes of the law requiring these stickers is to impress upon motorists the need of repairs and adjustments to their vehicles to assure them of operating a machine which is safe.

Southern Association Accredits Yoe High

Dick Young, principal of Yoe High School, announces receipt by the local high school of a certificate from the Southern Association of Secondary Schools naming Yoe High as being fully accredited.

Young further stated the certificate states the Cameron school has met all requirements for making it accredited for the school year, 1956-57.

Co. Records Show Improvement Sought

Six parts composed a program outlined by the Milam County Grand Jury which held its first session here on Saturday, January 5.

This program seeks from "the officers having the authority" to rearrange the beds upon which members of the jury must sleep so as to allow moving space between them. They asked that the existing chairs and other furniture excepting the beds be removed, burned and new tables and chairs be placed in the smaller room at the northeast corner.

The grand jury also seeks separation of the interrogation room and the sleeping quarters and bath facilities, the cleaning and disinfecting of feathers in present pillows and new ticking be made to cover them, movement of heat-

County Court Hires Trapper For Beasts

At a meeting of the Milam County Commissioners' Court held last Thursday, January 17, a group of 46 farmers and ranchers met with the body and requested action on predatory animals in the county.

John A. Smith, spokesman for the livestock raisers, outlined the need of means to rid the county of wolves and bobcats currently becoming so numerous and active as to cause a situation that is getting out of hand. Farmers and ranchers from every section of the entire county then described the damage now being done by these beasts in their particular area of Milam County.

Members of the court, County Judge C. C. Smith and members of the livestock raisers' group then discussed means most suitable for destroying the animals. Present on this phase of the discussion was James E. Poore, assistant district agent for the U. S. Department of Interior, predatory and rodent control, who works in cooperation with the Texas A&M Extension Service.

Offer of bounties for slain predatory animals and the services of a government trapper, both means of which have previously been utilized in Milam County, were discussed. It was decided that as of the present crisis to livestock producers, a government trapper would be the more ideal method to employ.

Poore explained to the group that as of the present, state and federal agencies will pay 50 percent of the cost in destroying such animals as is currently causing damage. At the request of the farmers present, the commissioners' court agreed to pay the remaining 50 percent of the cost.

Former Cameron Lumberman Dies

Many Milam County persons, friends of R. P. Fisher, will regret to learn of his death recently at his home in Harrison, Arkansas, where he has lived for a number of years. His death came after a long illness.

A retired lumberman, Fisher made his home for a number of years in Cameron and was connected with the Jeter Lumber Company. He was a native of Lexington, Missouri.

Funeral services were held from the Holt Funeral Chapel in Harrison. The Rev. Herbert Anderson officiated. Interment was in Tom Thumb Cemetery near Harrison.

Survivors include a sister, Miss Elizabeth Fisher, of Harrison.

School Officials Attend Meeting

Dick Young, Yoe High School principal, attended the school administrators' annual conference in Austin earlier this month.

High lights of the conference were the discussions of the latest school administrative methods. These include new graduation requirements and accreditation and certification of school teachers.

Wiley Loughmiller, superintendent of the Cameron Public Schools, also attended the conference. However, he attended different meetings than the principal and ones which covered other phases of school administration procedures.

Annual Football Banquet Monday

Bill Glass, All-American member of the Baylor University football squad, will be the featured speaker at the annual football banquet to be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, January 28.

Previously, news stories in daily newspapers of nearby cities ran a story that Glass would be a speaker at another football banquet on the same night he is scheduled to appear here. However, Bob Nelson, president of the Cameron Quarterback Club, says Glass will definitely be on hand for the local banquet.

Another member of the Baylor Bears Sugar Bowl Champions will also be present for the event. This player will be Larry Hickman, who will sing two vocal selections during the evening.

Nelson will serve as toastmaster at the banquet. Following the invocation, a song by Hickman, introduction of guests and coaches, the guest speaker will be introduced.

Members of the Yoe Football Squad, honored guests of the banquet, are covering downtown Cameron Wednesday and Thursday of this week making advance ticket sales. However, it was announced that tickets will be on sale at the door of Simon-George Hall on the evening of the banquet.

Sponsors of the event are the Quarterback, Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs.

KC Banquet To Be Stag Dinner Only

Officials of the Knights of Columbus here in Cameron late Tuesday pointed out a misunderstanding concerning the banquet which they are giving in honor of the Yoe High School Football team and its coaches. They explained that this banquet is to be a stag affair only and is not open to the public. Only players, coaches, members of the Knights of Columbus and invited guests will attend the banquet scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, January 24.

Bryan's Trial Enters 3rd Day

Trial in District Judge O. D. Graham's court of the State of Texas versus David T. Bryan entered into its third day at 10 a.m. Wednesday with indications that it might possibly extend on into Thursday or later.

Bryan is being tried on a charge of forgery as was returned by a Milam County grand jury indictment on August 9, 1955. He is charged with making a false instrument in writing purporting to be the act of another person. The instrument, a draft in the amount of $1272, was then endorsed with the name for whom the draft was assigned. This name was that of Paul Zipperlan.

According to testimony received in the hearing on Tuesday, endorsement of the draft was written in the same hand as had been used in the drawing of the instrument. District Attorney Bob Nelson's witnesses included a handwriting expert and an auditor of the company against which the draft was drawn. The auditor had come to Texas to appear in the trial from his offices in Nebraska.

Members of the jury for the trial were allowed to return to their homes Tuesday night rather than to go through the regular routine of being isolated during the continuance of the trial. This permission was granted the jurors by Judge Graham upon agreement of attorneys for both the defendant and the prosecution.

Jury members serving are W. L. Hall, Leon Albrecht, A. H. Averett, W. D. Bales, C. A. Oslick, Ed Pagel, I. V. Wise, H. L. Feasler, F. H. Pearce, W. A. Garner, C. O. Towery and Harry W. Clark.

The award last week was in the form of a certificate presented by Lt. Col. Marlin D. Lewis, deputy state Selective Service director. MODERN HOMEMAKING

RECIPES... HOUSEHOLD HELPS

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

Did you know the United States is the largest coffee consumer in the world? Coffee is certainly a great favorite in the Southwest, for we drink coffee from breakfast (or before) right through the last TV program at night, yet many people ask how to make really good coffee.

For instant coffee, use the amount of coffee that your preference dictates, add boiling water, cover the container and let the coffee steep for a moment or two to develop the flavor.

Coffee Making Methods

For brewed coffee, here are directions according to the National Coffee Association: Choose any type, but keep your coffee maker spotlessly clean - wash in suds, rinse thoroughly in very hot water. Scald coffee maker just before using. Use the proper grind coffee and measure proper grind coffee and measure accurately! One standard coffee measure (two level tablespoons) to each six ounces of water (three-fourths of a standard measuring cup) are the correct proportions. Start with freshly drawn cold water. Never boil coffee! Keep it hot over a very low gas flame.

For best results, brew coffee at full capacity of coffee maker, never less than three-fourths.

With coffee a favorite beverage, it follows that coffee is becoming a favorite flavor for many dishes. Coffee goes especially well in desserts. Try a little instant coffee sifted with confectioners' sugar for butter frosting. For a delicious mocha flavor, top chocolate pudding or pie with coffee whipped cream; add two teaspoons instant coffee to one-half pint heavy cream before whipping.

Coffee Syrup

Combine one cup sugar and one cup strong coffee, simmer three minutes, and you'll have a smooth syrup for flavoring milk drinks. Stir enough syrup into a glass of milk to give a preferred coffee flavor. Pop in a spoon of ice cream to put this beverage in the party class.

For more free information, send a postcard to the Home Economics Department, Lone Star Gas Company, Room 601, 301 South Harwood, Dallas 1, Texas.

Add gradually, beating until egg whites are stiff and stand in peaks, one-fourth cup of sugar. Whip until stiff one-half cup whipping cream. Fold beaten egg whites and whipped cream into cooked mixture. Pour into nine-inch baked pastry shell or crumb crust. Sprinkle with mixture of one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon and one teaspoon sugar. Chill in gas refrigerator at least three hours. Makes one nine-inch pie.

Senator Secrest Introduces Bill

Senator Jarrard Secrest of Temple, who represents Milam County in the Texas legislature, has introduced a bill permitting companies to charge lower insurance rates.

This would be possible when a flexible rating system proposed in the bill is substituted for the present single or uniform rating system for determining rates for surety and casualty (including automobile) insurance.

"Many insurance companies now are in a position to charge lower rates for insurance, but are not permitted to do so because the State Board of Insurance Commissioners must under the present law name the same rate for all companies," Senator Secrest explained.

Other advantages of the bill by Milam County area's senator are that buyers of casualty and automobile insurance can shop around to find the lowest rates and best coverage, no longer would the careful driver have to pay the same rates as the careless one,

It's Glass

Gossamer thin glass fibers that won't burn or wrinkle are used to weave this Fiberglas curtain. The candle flame may leave a dark smudge where it touches the curtain, but it can't start a blaze. The same is true of many drapery fabrics made of glass by scores of manufacturers.

A new dawn of brightness and beauty is being reflected in modern living with curtains and draperies woven of actual glass fibers. In conventional fabrics, light filters through the spaces between the threads but in Fiberglas, the threads themselves diffuse and transmit the light. They have the almost magic effect of softening, diffusing, and at the same time glowing with the light.

As curtains, glass fabrics are becoming more popular with the busy housewife every day. They are the easiest to care for since they can be washed and rehung in a matter of minutes with absolutely no ironing. Because they are made of glass, they cannot deteriorate from sun, mildew, fire, rain, heat or humidity, nor will they stretch or shrink. The same advantages apply to Fiberglas drapery fabrics.

Fiberglass curtains and draperies come in a wide variety of weaves, textures and colors and are being designed and manufactured by some 50 firms throughout the country. The characteristic glow suffused through these translucent yarns, creates an effect that is similar to a stained glass window.

"fair trade" rates with the state fixing the price of insurance would not exist and the state would gain $6,000,000 annually in taxes and which it is now losing on "non-admitted" companies paying no state taxes

Soon after leaving the deck of the Navy's first guided missile destroyer, the GYATT, the Terrier missile reaches a speed of about 1,500 miles an hour.

Shaping of a waterway in preparation for establishing to Bermuda grass has been completed on this farm of district cooperator, Mrs. Mabel Hempel.

The Hempel farm is located immediately west of the city of Holland and is operated by Joe Dubec. Mrs. Hempel and son, George Hempel, now in Dallas, are residents of Bartlett.

Installation of the waterway is being carried out to facilitate construction of a terrace system for all croplands of the farm unit. Bermuda grass is the vegetation selected for use in this disposal area for concentrated runoff waters to guard against gully tendencies. Shaping of the waterway was carried out to obtain the needed carrying capacity cross section to maintain a velocity or rate of travel of run-off waters at a point considered within the safety range for the vegetation used.

Tillage operations are underway to provide the needed seedbed preparation for an adequate sodding job. When an adequate cover of grass has been developed on the waterway strip, approximately nine miles of terraces will be constructed to spill run-off waters from some 160 acres of cropland into the disposal area.

Apply Conservation Program

Assistance on this farm in planning and applying a coordinated Soil Conservation program has been made available through cooperative agreement with the Little River San Gabriel Soil Conservation personnel in Bartlett serve the area in which the farm is located.

Cooperators with the Little River San Gabriel Soil Conservation District planning installation of waterways in preparation for terrace construction on eroding cropland are for the most part one good rain away from sodding

Shaping of waterways where needed, says Michael Brown, soil conservationist in Bartlett, should be completed immediately and land preparations made ready to properly accommodate the sodding operation itself. Late winter and early spring is the general season locally which has been found most dependable for the successful establishment of permanent grasses, he says, and the season is almost upon us.

MILAM COUNTY COURTHOUSE before and after its latest remodeling which was carried out in 1938. The view showing the tower is of the courthouse as it was originally built in 1891. In 1938, the commissioner's court enacted a ruling under which the tower and roof were removed and a concrete slab roof placed on the building. During this remodeling phase, public rest rooms were placed in the basement of the courthouse and a general renovation of offices and stairways was performed. Citizens of the county can note their own opinions from the 1938 view showing a neat and well kept building and the present status of the county courthouse. This present status being one leading to letters to members of the county government describing Milam County's seat of government as "deplorable," "unclean," having "sticky floors" and as one former Milam County resident wrote, "We have never seen anything as filthy as those rooms."

Immunizations

Almost Complete

School immunizations were practically complete in all schools before the Christmas holidays. Immunizations are complete in the Marlow, Rockdale colored, Milano white and colored, Gause white and colored and Yarrelton schools.

Another visit is being made in January to the Maysfield colored and Branchville schools because on one trip no smallpox vaccine was available and a large number of preschool children turned out for immunizations.

Dr. John B. Bryson, the director, attended a two day conference of local health unit directors in Austin during December. Dr. Trenting, professor of preventive medicine and public health of Tulane University was the main speaker. Many aspects of health unit activities including compulsory hospitalization of tuberculosis cases and new legislation to be proposed to the next legislature were discussed.

During December 19 two-shot series of polio vaccine and 1-2 boosters were given to make a total of 787 completed series and 399 boosters for the year of 1956. In addition many more polio shots have been given by private physicians of Milam County.

Communicable diseases reported during December were as follows: Streptococcal infections, 28; chickenpox, 30; measles, eight; influenza, six; gonorrhea, three; and one each of syphilis, tuberculosis, and salmonellosis (food poisoning).

Clinic day at Cameron will be on Thursdays in the future instead of Wednesdays as in the past.

Regular routine inspections of food and other establishments have been made during the month of December.

All of the rodent control projects have been completed over the area with indications showing very good results. Some 427 places were visited and 276 business establishments were poisoned with Pival and Pivalyn.

From the proceeds of bonds voted recently in Cameron, considerable improvements in water and sewage facilities are being planned for the near future.

All nuisance complaints that have come to the attention of this office have been promptly investigated.

More rodent control work is being planned in and after the first of the year.

Visitors for the month were none.

HORSTMANN BROTHERS

NO WONDER Most Guesses are Hundreds Too High!

If you think this Chieftain Pontiac looks out of place in the low-price field, you've got plenty of company. But there it stands . . . in solidly with the so-called low-priced three—a big, bold, beautiful eye-opener with not a thing to remind you of its very modest cost. Start with looks. Here's the distinction of clean, unfrenzied, straight-to-the-point Star Flight lines that are built in, not improvised. But it's in the performance department that the price guesses really run wild! Drive it and see for yourself. Pontiac's big 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio V-8 doesn't know what strain is, no matter what you demand of it. New precision-touch handling makes "driving effort" a term only for your memory book. And the Chieftain's 122-inch-wheelbase Level-Line Ride is so smooth that only the passing road signs remind you that you're earth-bound. In fact, nothing in the low-price field even comes close in power, wheelbase or features! If you think all this is beyond your reach, a visit to your Pontiac dealer for a talk about price will put you in that wonderful club of Pontiac owners who have discovered that it's rewriting the book in the low-price field!

Waggoner Carr To Serve As Speaker Of House

By Herman Yezak
January

State Representative Waggoner Carr of Lubbock was elected Speaker of the House without any opposition for the office. Carr is a lawyer and 38 years of age. He is married and has a son named David, who is 7 years old.

Speaker Carr appointed the standing committees of the House for the 55th session of the Texas Legislature on the second day of the session. A member is usually appointed on five standing committees.

Governor Shivers made his last message to the joint-session of the House and Senate which is required by the Constitution. He reviewed the progress made by Texas during his long tenure in office. He renewed several recommendations that he made to previous legislatures which have not been accomplished. He recommended some sort of run-off primary in the special election for the United States Senate seat.

House members have started filing bills, but the first reading, and referring them to committees, was delayed until the third week of the session.

Governor-elect Price Daniel took the oath of office in the Hall of the House of Representatives on Tuesday, January 15, before a large audience. Plans were made to have the inaugural ceremonies in front of the Capitol, but inclement weather forced the inaugural ceremonies to be moved inside. Governor Shivers was present on the platform when Governor-elect Daniel took the oath of office. In his inaugural address, Governor Daniel stressed the need for improvements in our state government and the enforcement of laws.

In his message to the legislature, Governor Daniel made scores of recommendations of which the most important were: passage of a lobby registration law; creation of State Law Enforcement Commission; improving water conservation laws; for the state to pay a part of the cost of right of ways for certain highways; increased pensions for the aged; a salary raise for school teachers and college professors; to permit the state to spend money for advertising; increase workman compensation benefits; appropriate more money for buildings in our prison system; and there were many other recommendations. The new Governor pointed out that he would make other recommendations to the legislature from time to time.

Governor Daniel served three terms in the Texas House of Representatives, one of which was as Speaker; two terms as Attorney General of Texas; and four years as United States Senator before becoming Governor.

CAMERON, TEXAS' HERALD, JANUARY 24, 1957

WATER FOR THE THIRSTY SOIL. Irrigation ditches carry precious water to a cotton crop outside Navasota. In the 1956 growing season, during the worst Texas drought on record, irrigated cotton on the Brazos River bottoms between Hearne and Navasota made 2½ bales to the acre, while dry cotton in Central Texas did well to make a bale to six acres. The long-range plan of the Brazos River Authority calls for thirteen more dams on the Brazos and its tributaries, to save water when it rains and create an assured supply for agriculture, cities and industries. Power will be an incidental by-product of some of the dams.

Schiller Tells Of Drug Evils

Edward Schiller, Cameron pharmacist, said speaker at the regular luncheon-meeting of the local Kiwanis Club last Thursday, January 17. The meeting was held at the Magnolia House.

A short but complete history of marijuana was explained by Schiller to the Kiwanians from the original purpose of the narcotic to its present day use by drug addicts. He explained how the plant from which present day illicit use is made originally came to this country years ago to be used for production of hemp for manufacture of ropes and certain textiles.

Brought to this hemisphere from India, the plant will grow, he said, in almost any section of North and South Americas. He explained how use of this narcotic leads to use of the more powerful drugs such as morphine, cocaine and heroin. Habitual users of these drugs must spend as high as from $20 to $50 daily for their drugs. Even the marijuana cigarette smokers must pay as much as a dollar per cigarette he said.

One of the worse phases of using such drugs as stressed by the local pharmacist is the fact that there is seldom any cure of the habit which is lasting.

Long Active Here, Man Dies At 96

D. B. Worcester, retired meat market operator in Cameron and livestock farmer, died at his home in Chriesman at 5 a.m. Friday, January 11.

Funeral services were held from the Marek-Burns Funeral Home chapel in Cameron Sunday afternoon, January 13. Rev. Charles White of Caldwell and Rev. Aubrey Russell of Cameron officiated. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Born in 1861 in the Penn Oak community in Milam County, Mr. Worcester celebrated his 96th birthday only a short time before his death. Having moved to Chriesman only about five years ago from Cameron upon his retirement from business, he was active until only a few days before his death.

Active In Cameron Affairs

He operated his meat market in Cameron where over a long period of years, he became well known and a friend to nearly everyone within Milam County. He dealt in livestock and farm activities as well. An alderman in Cameron for many years, Mr. Worcester was also a member of the Oddfellows, Praetorians and other civic, church and fraternal organizations. He was a very active member in the Baptist Church of which he was a member.

A daughter, Mrs. W. H. Gregg of Chriesman with whom he and Mrs. Worcester had been living, says her father only last year made a flower garden at the side of the house and near his wife's bedroom window so she could enjoy the flowers during the spring

Worship together this week

We are well blessed. The doors of our churches and synagogues are wide open... waiting for us to enter. Set aside a time each week... a time apart from the "busyness" of living. You'll find more joy in each day, if you give some time each week to worship.

And the Wolf family here—will you just look at those boys! They're feeling very grown-up and proud as punch, going to a Service with Mom and Dad.

Here's Dave Judson and Bill Miller. Good friends for a good many years now. They hardly ever "talk" religion—they just always find time to get to Services each week.

Ever been a stranger in any town? Then you've known loneliness. And you know how comforting it is to come upon a church or synagogue where the doors are always wide open to everyone.

Final Rites Held For Jack Hargrove

Graveside services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday, January 19, at the Murray Cemetery for Jack Hargrove, who died at 4 p.m. Thursday, January 17, at the home of his niece, Mrs. J. A. Carter, in Thrall after an illness of two weeks.

Rev. O. J. Morgan, pastor of the Baptist Church in Lexington, officiated at the services. Condra Funeral Home of Taylor was in charge of the arrangements.

A native of Tracy, Mr. Hargrove was born on March 9, 1873. He had lived 29 years prior to his death with Mrs. Carter and was the brother of the late Mrs. Will Caldwell of Cameron, who died in 1943.

He is survived by several nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers for the funeral services were James B. Carter, Duane Hargrove, John Hargrove, B. C. Caldwell, Cliff Langston and Ray Jones.

Texas Legislators Seek More Aid For Drouth Area Farmers, Ranchers

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, as one of his first actions in the 85th Congress, recently introduced in the Senate a bill providing immediate additional assistance to farmers and stockmen in drought areas and setting up a program to restore drought hit pasture land to productivity.

As immediate assistance, the senator's proposal instructs the Secretary of Agriculture to give assistance in providing cottonseed cake to cattle owners.

The second section of the proposed program calls for conducting an extensive soil conservation program through the use of a deferred grazing plan.

"This would make it possible for stockmen to give their land a chance to recover from the effects of the drought, once it breaks," Senator Johnson pointed out. "The bill would require the Department of Agriculture to make payments, at normal annual rental value, to landowners agreeing to defer the use of their depleted pasture lands for periods of not less than 12 months.

"In other words, the plan would make it possible for our stockmen to do what they know is sound from a conservation standpoint but what they cannot afford to do unless an adequate government program is provided," Senator Johnson said.

An identical bill was introduced in the House of Representatives by members of the Texas Delegation.

The secret of Ford's nationwide success is this: it's a new kind of Ford... new from the wheels up... more than a last year's model with a few "face lift" changes. In a Ford the chassis, engine and body are individually engineered into one spacious rock-solid unit.

Pride In Her Work . . .

Too often we see workers doing their jobs and no more as they await payday. To too many of us, work is for monetary gain alone and not for the pride in accomplishment nor the betterment of others.

Such cannot be said for Mrs. Loretta M. Brock, draft board clerk here in Cameron. Only last week she was awarded recognition for a suggestion now adopted in Texas for improving Selective Service methods. And this is not the first time she has been recognized for her suggestions to improve the service.

Mrs. Brock is a modern day Molly Pitcher. To such women as these, we must give credit for making America great.

Problem Of County Buildings . . .

The November Grand Jury for Milam County in their session ending on Saturday, January 5, laid forth a program for improvement of jury accommodations.

Further investigations of papers in County Judge Charles C. Smith's files show such requests for clean-up and modernization of Milam County buildings have been expressed by both grand juries and petit juries for years in the past. Letters to the county judges and commissioners court from travelers through the county indicate our county courthouse is far below the standards of other Texas counties.

Citizens of the county by going through these county owned buildings can see for themselves how the premises are deteriorating. Steps entering the building in places have gaps from between one and two inches from the building itself. Mortar holding the stones of the building proper together is falling out in too many places. The roof leaks. Plaster on interior walls has cracks and is falling away in many places.

Since World War II, there have been 37 counties within Texas that have built new courthouses to keep step with the modern times. Others are currently planning to build or to remodel their old buildings. Of those 37 courthouses, all replaced former county buildings that were newer than the one now being used in Milam County.

One of these is in Brazos County and was constructed at a cost of $1,000,000. According to the Texas Almanac, Brazos County has property valuations of only $22,700,000 and a tax rate of 80 cents per $100. The same source of information shows Milam County to have property of $33,000,000 and a tax rate of 75 cents per $100.

There must be some manner in which Milam County officials can improve the offices in which our local government can be transacted with the dignity due a governmental body. This manner should not call for any increase in taxes if such can be done in other counties without tax increases.

What is to be done is to be determined by the people of Milam County and the officials they elect to office. The Cameron Herald at this point offers Judge Smith, members of the Milam County Commissioners' Court, other county officers and citizens from throughout the county and from any walk of life the space to present their views on when, where, why and how the county can improve its facilities.

Belief In Future Of Cameron . . .

Oxshier Smith of The Citizens National Bank in Cameron was successful in acquiring $375,000 in water bonds placed for disposal by the City of Cameron on a bid basis.

Sale of such large volume of bonds are done daily throughout the nation for equal or larger amounts. However, seldom does one hear of a bank in a city the size of Cameron being able to bid in competition with firms in such places as Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio. Even more seldom does one hear of the small city bank submitting the successful bid.

Persons in Milam County and Cameron should all recognize this act as one of which they should be most proud. A city of between five and ten thousand population passes a bond issue for enlarging and improving its water supply. It sells this large issue of bonds to a local firm purchasing them while in competition with six of the largest financial institutions in the state.

Thus money being used for Cameron improvements is from a local source. Interest to be paid on this money by the city will remain within the county as will the principal paid. All in all, The Citizens National Bank headed by Oxshier Smith has made an investment in the City of Cameron that is a boon to the economic future of the city and county, an investment unsurpassed in the history of the county and one showing the strong belief of local businesses and businessmen in a prosperous future for our city and county.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER WARNS WASHINGTON NOT TO LOOK TO HIM TO BALANCE THE NATIONAL BUDGET.

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River has gotten word of the national budget, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

The other night during that cold spell after I'd gotten my chores done, well, they weren't actually done according to some standards but they were by mine, which is to say I just let em by the fire reading the news from Washington in a copy of a newspaper I'd found earlier in the day on the road near my house where it'd blown off the radiator of a car where somebody had tied it to keep his block from busting and I got interested in President Eisenhower's budget for this year.

As I understand it, he says we will have to spend more money but won't have to raise taxes. He says it will take about 72 billion dollars to run the government for the next twelve months, which is an increase of about 3 billion over what it took last year, and while I'll admit it doesn't make much difference to me, I don't know the difference between 69 billion and 72 billion anyway, they lost me way back there, I did notice that like's advisors were telling him that the increase wouldn't throw the government in the red, even without a tax increase, because they were figuring there'd be more money coming in this year because of more income tax payments because of higher incomes, and thus the budget will stay balanced.

Well, now, I'll tell you, I sure hope like ain't basing his plans for a balanced budget on any increased earnings on my part. I don't believe I can swing it. I'd sure like to help him out, but if the United States government is counting on me increasing my income in 1957 to balance the budget, they better re-figure the whole thing.

If the Washington experts are counting on me to keep em out of the red, my advice is to stop counting their chickens before their eggs are hatched. In fact, they'd better check up on the eggs too. My hens haven't been laying much.

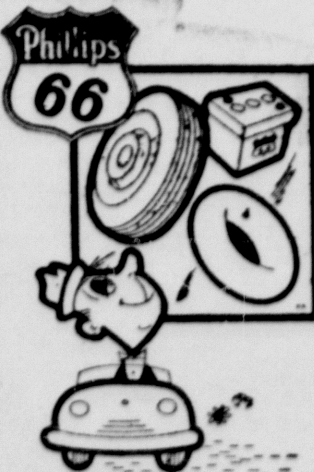

Understand, I'd like to help balance the budget, be proud to, but any spending program in Washington which is based on the assumption I'm gonna make more money in 1957 than I did in 1956, just ain't being realistic. I'd like to help like balance his budget all right, but I haven't ever gotten around to balancing my own yet.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Blow And Go Escape

"Blow and go" is Navy slang for the new method of escaping from a submarine. A sailor who "blows and goes" reaches the surface in 20 seconds from a depth of 100 feet. He must exhale the air in his lungs while he is being carried to the surface by a pneumatic vest.

Although the move was only 800 feet, Reader's Digest reports it took five months planning and 182 persons to move five billion dollars worth of valuables held by the United States Trust Company of New York from 45 Wall Street to 37 Broad Street last June 3. Sixty-one insurance companies underwrote the move.

Buy, Scare or Kill Him -- That's The Duval Rule For Successful Bossism

By-FRANZ ROSENWALD

SAN DIEGO, TEX.--The first thing any smart dictator does is destroy the freedom of the press. Dictatorship, whether it be called Nazism or Bossism, and a free press cannot exist together.

In a later article I want to tell you how the press played an indispensable role in the collapse of the Duval Duchy.

But right now I want to talk about Manuel Marroquin, who was beaten because his little newspaper published things the boys didn't like. It's a lot like other beatings I've seen in other places, halfway around the world.

The first Nazi storm trooper I ever saw was at a Hitler birthday rally in the Berlin Sports Palace. He was a smiling, affable fellow, booted, wearing a Sam Brown belt over his neat khaki shirt. On his left arm was a swastika, emblem of good luck. At his side hung a dagger in its sheath.

Hundreds of his fellows were scattered about the huge hall, all smiling, all good natured, selling photographs of Der Fuehrer and copies of "Mein Kampf."

My storm trooper worked in a bakery not too far from my home. I knew him well. He was a bit on the rotund side, jolly, and he wouldn't hurt a fly.

This was long before Hitler came to supreme power in Germany.

Hitler made his grand entrance—and a man near me laughed at the strutting little bantam rooster with the funny moustache.

My mild-mannered baker was on him in a second, beating him in the face with his fists, tearing his glasses off and flinging them in the aisle. Another storm trooper moved in, deliberately crunching the glasses under his heel, his dagger drawn and pointed at the man who was being beaten.

Nobody in the vicinity moved, and the ovation for Der Fuehrer roared on. The storm troopers hustled the man out. My mild-mannered baker returned in a few minutes, jovial, smiling, selling his pictures of Der Fuehrer.

The first pistolero I ever saw was just the other day in the Windmill Cafe in San Diego, Texas.

He was a smiling, affable fellow, booted and wearing a neat khaki shirt. Belted to his side was a .45 in a holster.

That same day I tape recorded the story of Manuel Marroquin, publisher of a little political paper called "New Duval," a paper dedicated to the destruction of the dictatorship of George Bertram Parr.

The incident, the parallel with

Nazi Germany as described by Marroquin, occurred just a few weeks before I talked to him. Here is his story, taken directly from the recording:

"I was sitting in the San Diego Cafe drinking coffee with the school superintendent, Hernando de Pena, and two Daily Echo (the newspaper in Alice, Texas) reporters, Jake Lewis and a sports writer, a new fellow from Laredo named Dubose, when Mr. Amaya (Manuel Amaya, San Diego Chief of Police) came to the door. I could see Mr. Garza (Amado Garza, a San Diego policeman), his deputy, standing behind him.

"Mr. Amaya said 'Come out, I want to talk to you.' (The line between Jim Wells County and Duval County runs through the middle of the San Diego Cafe. Marroquin followed Amaya outside, being careful to move to the Jim Wells side of the line and about six feet from the East wall of the cafe. It was about 9:30 at night.)

"I asked him (Amaya) 'Why do you want to talk to me,' I was watching Mr. Garza because he had his gun out in his hand. "Then all of a sudden, Wham! He (Amaya) hit me across here (indicating a livid partly-healed scar on his cheek) and I was bleeding bad. My glasses were gone.

"He (Amaya) said 'You talk too damn much in your paper.' "I said 'That's no way to settle things. What don't you like about my paper? You can sue me for libel if you want to.'

"He said 'I'm going to kill you' and I said, 'Oh no you're not.' Then I turned and walked away and Mr. Garza said 'Come back, you coward.' I kept on walking. I was so hurt inside that I couldn't talk any more."

I've often wondered what happened to the man in the Sports Palace in Berlin when the storm troopers got him outside.

I asked Marroquin why he had taken the beating so meekly, why he hadn't fought back. This is his answer, again taken directly from the tape:

"I would have got killed right there."

As John Ben Sheppard puts it, the Duval pattern is that of any other political dictatorship, Nazi, Communist or just plain old American-style "Bossism" run wild: If you can't buy him, or scare him—kill him!

That night Marroquin went to his home on the Jim Wells County side of the line. He didn't sleep. Instead he sat up all night with his Winchester across his knees. In Berlin during the Hitler terror people didn't sleep either.

The next day Marroquin was formally charged with disturbing the peace and resisting arrest. He was acquitted in court. A Jim Wells County court.

Let's take one more parallel case—and there are literally hundreds that might be cited. We'll consider Manuel Sanchez, a grocer. He's a Latin-American and his name is Spanish. The name is curiously close to that of Don Quixote's roly-poly squire in the famous Cervantes satire. So this Sanchez, also a roly-poly man who weighs over 400 pounds, isn't tilting at windmills.

Manuel Sanchez' name might have been Schultz and he might have lived in Berlin. His experience would have been the same. Sanchez' sin in San Diego was to vote—and talk—against the machine of George Bertram Parr.

Sanchez' business was placed under a strict boycott. He was threatened. People on relief (and these are many in Duval, particularly at election time) were ordered not to trade with him. His business was ruined. He might just as well have had "Judas" soaped on his window and storm troopers posted at his door.

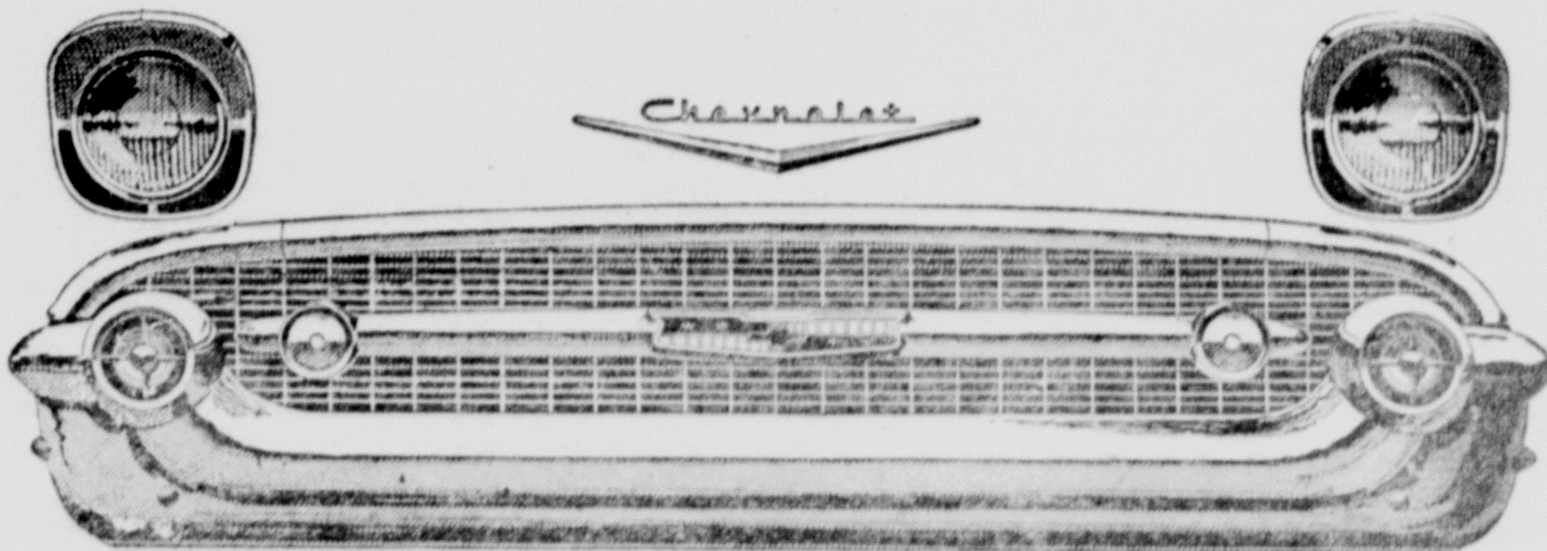

In Hitler's Germany the terror hours were at night. It was a favorite sport of the storm troopers to route suspected enemies of the Reich out of bed, line up the family and glare powerful flashlights into their eyes. The troopers would say nothing, just stand back of the lights. Sometimes this would be repeated night after night for weeks. Eventually some member of the family would crack and blurt out a confession. The next stop would be a concentration camp.

Manuel Sanchez and his family were subjected to the same treatment in a modified form. Parr's bully boys would drive up to the Sanchez home at night and throw the blinding beams from strong flashlights into the faces of Sanchez and his family, into the frightened eyes of Sanchez' mother, who was ill. Sometimes George Parr took a personal part in these expeditions.

Hitler's storm troopers didn't bother to get search warrants when they pulled a raid. Parr's men at least went through the motions. Parr's sheriff obtained an illegal warrant and ripped Sanchez' store apart in a search for alleged narcotics. Sanchez was smart enough to get witnesses. No narcotics were found.

The story of a dictatorship cannot be fully told except in terms of living people—and we could go on and on with stories of Duval, each story with a counterpart in the Germany that I knew, the Germany from which I escaped. There's the story of Cristobal Ybanez who was personally beaten by Parr who swung a rifle at his head. But why go on?

Manuel Marroquin's story illustrates the pattern. A smart dictator and a spunky newspaper don't mix. That's one of the big reasons why the Duval machine broke down, as I'll tell you about in another article.

Chevrolet shows you some important differences in low-priced cars just by the look on its face!

Wouldn't you say that most of the '57 cars look good from 50 feet away, but what about from 50 inches away?

What does a close-up of the grille tell you, for example? Is it solidly made like the new Chevrolet grille? Or, in comparison does it look less rich in design—feel less strong and solid? Compare the quality and construction of the bumpers and headlights, the fit of the chrome trim.

The more closely you look all around the car, the more clearly you'll see that Chevrolet has the edge in the way it's put together. You'll find, for instance, that Chevrolet is the only car in its field with a lacquer finish . . . that only Chevrolet Bel Air models give you foam rubber cushions in front and rear seats as standard equipment. These are just a few of the advantages of Body by Fisher. And Chevrolet, you know, is the only low-priced car that has a Fisher Body.

We'll be glad to give you a close-up, comparative look at this new Chevy anytime you care to come in. This week, maybe?

Cameron Chamber Of Commerce Naming Mrs. America Nominees

Directors of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce this week announced an adopted resolution of the body to sponsor and to encourage other local organizations to sponsor candidates for nomination of Mrs. America 1958.

Officers of the Chamber of Commerce indicated there are a number of housewives here with all the qualifications to fill this honorary position. They further pointed out that there is a good possibility for some Cameron woman to go to the finals in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, next May and return to Cameron as Mrs. America 1958.

The search for Mrs. America 1958—the number one homemaker in the United States—begins this week in the cities, towns, hamlets and rural areas of Texas and the Nation.

As in past years, thousands of the nation's women's clubs and other local organizations such as Jaycees, Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary Clubs will sponsor entries. Sponsorship by an organization, however, is not required for participation in the contest.

Qualifications

The contest is open to any married woman, 21 years or over who is a citizen and permanent resident of the United States and has resided in the State for at least three consecutive months immediately prior to entering the contest. She cannot be an employee or member of the family of an employee of organizations associated in conducting the contest. She cannot be under contract with a business manager or agent.

Homemakers may obtain entry blanks at the Chamber of Commerce office, the local Lone Star Gas Company offices and from most gas appliance dealers between January 20 and February 28. Entry blanks must be postmarked not later than February 28.

Regional eliminations will be held in Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene, Waco and Greenville during the first week of April. Local nominees will be entered in the Waco competition. Regional winners will compete in the state finals, which will be held at Dallas' Statler Hilton Hotel Wednesday and Thursday, April 10-11.

The state winner—Mrs. Texas 1958—will go with her husband to Fort Lauderdale, Florida, in May to seek the Mrs. America 1958 title. At Fort Lauderdale she will compete with winners from 47 other states and the District of Columbia.

Prizes And Awards

The list of prizes and awards to be won by Mrs. Texas 1958 and Mrs. America 1958 had not been completed at press time, but is expected to exceed the 1957 list. Mrs. America 1957 received more than $15,000 in prizes, plus a new deluxe 1956 De Soto Firefly sedan, fees for approximately 50 days of personal appearances in major cities over the nation at the rate of $100 per day, a two-week vacation for two at Ellinor Village, Daytona Beach, Florida, and an all-expenses-paid trip to Europe and the Belgian Congo via Sabena Belgian World Airlines.

Complete contest rules appear on the official entry blanks. Homemakers qualifying for the regional, state and national finals will be judged on cooking, baking, sewing, laundering, ironing techniques, family meal planning and table setting.

Besides ability in performing these tasks, the contestants will be judged on personal attractiveness, poise, personality, family life and contributions to their communities. Personal attractiveness will be judged on good grooming, tasteful dress and pleasant appearance, rather than beauty.

Milam Draft Board Considers 60 Files At Recent Meeting

Local Board No. 92 held a regular meeting on January 20 with approximately 60 files before the board for consideration.

New regulations and directives were read and discussed. One of the changes in regulations, since the last board meeting, is a local board memorandum from National Headquarters advising that the Secretary of Defense has approved the curriculum of seven colleges throughout the United States for the deferment or exemption from registration of students enrolled.

Although Section 6(a) of the Universal Military Training and Service Act, as amended, has carried this provision for some time, registrants could not qualify because the Secretary of Defense had not approved the curriculum of any colleges. Among those approved is A & M College of Texas.

This means that young men enrolled in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, Senior Division, at A & M College are exempt from registration and if registered, are entitled to classification in Class I-D. If a young man becomes eighteen prior to becoming enrolled in ROTC at A & M College, he will of course be required to register but will be entitled to I-D Classification upon receipt of evidence from the school that he qualifies.

The local board has access to information from the World War I records of Selective Service and can obtain copies of the registration card for any World War I registrant who desires it. Many find the record valuable for the purpose of proving age. The Local Board will begin work in Milam County on February 1 and will continue for the following three months. Persons troubled by predatory animals are requested to report their needs for destruction of such beasts to the Farm Bureau office in Cameron, which in return will notify the trapper.

Both Smith and the judge pointed out the need of complete cooperation on the part of landowners and livestock producers. All concerned will benefit through such cooperation since with such all can be kept posted as to where the trapper is working and where he has his traps and bait set.

Those composing the group which called upon the court were Nollie Henson, Horace Bozeman, Lawrence McClaren, W. R. Newton, John A. Smith, Frank Klement, James E. Poore, J. D. Moore, Marvin Petty, Henry Richter, Walter Hagemester, H. F. Smith, Hugh Wimberly, O. G. Tumlinson, A. W. Lange, Herman Fuchs, G. H. Beckhusen, F. W. Vogelsang, L. C. Boyd, G. F. Shafer, Niley Smith, Sr., Robert Otter, A. H. Jungman, Charles Duncan, Joe H. Marek, Erskine McDermott, Albert Dorner, Jerry Kostroun, E. B. Yager, Nelson Davis, R. H. McCashe, E. O. Mayfield, Jr., W. W. Ceefen, Guido Guskroch, H. C. Pape, F. H. Scarborough, G. W. Rogers, Joe Zajicek, C. W. Hensley, J. H. Janicek, A. H. Halberdier, Sam Graham, Herbert Heine, Paul C. Graves, E. L. Modessette, G. A. Lawrence, H. L. Allison, Jim Allison, Berenice Charles, S. W. McClaren, Jr., P. F. Fuchs, D. R. McQuarry and L. Y. McDonald.

She wrote that upon arriving in Cameron shortly before the time she was writing the letter, she and members of her family stopped at the rest rooms at the courthouse to freshen up before seeing relatives whom they had returned to Milam County to visit. Of these rest rooms located in the basement of the courthouse, she wrote, "We have never seen anything as filthy as those rooms were. In fact the toilets had overflowed and would have met us coming up the steps if it hadn't been in a basement."

Other cards and letters received over the past decade spoke of "sticky floors," "Dirty wash bowls," "no mirrors" and "dirty toilets."

The present courthouse was built in 1891. In 1938, it was remodeled including the removal of the old tower and roof which were substituted with a concrete slab roof. It was at this time that public rest rooms were installed in the basement.

Local Board will be glad to obtain the information if those World War I registrants will advise the local board office in Cameron and can give certain identifying information necessary to obtain the record.

Four young men have been ordered for induction on February 21. They are Elmer D. Green, Charles R. Kohring, Wilbert W. Lucko and Leroy O. Olbrich. Twelve have been ordered for preinduction physical examination on the same day. They are Lendell P. Tuma, A. R. Sullivan, George B. Brush, Charlie V. Rodriguez, Johnnie B. Gibson, Charles E. Whitfield, James King, Zeff Morgan, Jr., Albert A. Lange, Billy J. Lewis, Raymond L. Murphy and Clard L. Anderson.

COUNTY COURT —

Milam County wolves and bobcats will be Government Trapper Clifford A. Morgan, who is a local native and who has previously carried out this type of work in the county. Judge Smith said he believed Morgan knowing the people in Milam County and the geography of the land over which he would have to work, should do an adequate job of ridding the county of predatory animals. At the same time, he said Morgan has been instructed to cooperate with landowners to the fullest extent in order that they not lose any dogs or other pets from the government traps and bait.

Morgan will begin work in Milam County on February 1 and will continue for the following three months. Persons troubled by predatory animals are requested to report their needs for destruction of such beasts to the Farm Bureau office in Cameron, which in return will notify the trapper.

Both Smith and the judge pointed out the need of complete cooperation on the part of landowners and livestock producers. All concerned will benefit through such cooperation since with such all can be kept posted as to where the trapper is working and where he has his traps and bait set.

Milam Opens War On Leaf-Cutters

Damage caused by leaf-cutting ants is well known to the agricultural producers of Milam county and how to bring this pest under control will get major attention during the next few weeks, County Agent J. D. Moore said today.

The control demonstration program will be materially aided through a plan worked out by Extension Entomologist F. M. Fuller. Under the plan, a case of methyl bromide, which has proved to be an efficient material for controlling the leaf-cutting ant, will be supplied for demonstration purposes by The Dow Chemical Company.

Milam county is one of the 61 counties in Texas to receive the demonstration material. County Agent Moore said that methyl bromide is packaged in 1-pound cans and that a special applicator is required for getting the chemical into the ant colony. Caution must be exercised in using this chemical, said Moore, for it is poisonous.

The material will be used in Milam county not only to show how it should be applied but a close check will be made of the treated colonies, at regular intervals, in order that all interested persons in the county can be kept informed on the effectiveness of methyl bromide for controlling leaf-cut ants.

When final plans are completed for the demonstrations, announcements will be made in advance so that interested persons may attend or later visit the demonstration site to see the results, Moore said.

Other matters which came before the court during the Thursday session and on the previous meeting on Monday consisted of routine affairs such as approval of county bills for payment.

McCullin Award Will Be Given

Nomination blanks have been distributed by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce to local civic clubs and churches on which names of nominees for the McCullin Civic Award may be submitted.

This award is presented annually to some citizen, who has devoted time to outstanding and unselfish service to the community during the year.

Suggestions by the Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of receiving the nominations outline three points upon which eligible nominees should be determined. These three are contribution to the spiritual life of the community, influence for the good of the youth and contribution to the civic, cultural and commercial life of the city.

Deadline for submitting nominations has been set as February 15, 1957.

Other nomination blanks for individuals or organizations wishing to submit a name are available at the Chamber of Commerce office.
